Who are we?

The Advocacy and Visual Media Unit was formed in 2009 to strengthen OCHA's communication and advocacy through the creation of products such as information graphics, films and images. The unique skill sets of the AVMU staff are utilized to develop products that support advocacy efforts promoting change which improve humanitarian action at the organizational level. The AVMU team consists of two designers, one film-maker and one supervisor.

The AVMU services are available to OCHA Headquarters to the extent priorities and resources permit. Requests for support from the AVMU have to be submitted formally, via the request form to the head of AVMU for acceptance review. It is encouraged to seek outside funding and resources for major projects.
